

NATIONAL LAW ENFORCEMENT
OFFICER'S MEMORIAL

CHICAGO POLICE DEPARTMENT
INFORMATION GUIDE, 2023
WASHINGTON, D C

WELCOME

To those of you that are reading this, having expressed an interest in taking part in the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial (NLEOM) in Washington DC in 2023, Thank You on behalf of all the Gold Star Family members. There were 230 recognized Law Enforcement Officers who lost their lives from line of duty deaths in 2022, a significant drop over 2021, with much of the decrease attributed to the dramatic reduction in deaths from Covid-19. The average officer killed in 2022 was forty-four years old with 14 years, 11 months of service. Of the officers who died on the job in 2022, 208 were male and 22 were female. The average number of children left behind by each officer was two. Covid remains the main cause of death last year followed by gunfire and vehicle crashes, ranking two and three respectively. Through research and varied accounting, an especially disheartening statistic was the fact that an additional 180 law enforcement officers were recorded as having died by suicide in 2022, up from the recorded statistic of 133 in 2021. (There's HOPE please reach out)

BACKGROUND

In 1962, President Kennedy proclaimed May 15th as National Peace Officers Memorial Day and the calendar week in which it falls, as National Police Week. Over the many years, members of the Chicago Police Department have made the journey annually to Washington DC in May, sharing in the observance to honor our fallen. In 2002, following the 911 tragedy, the Chicago Police Department had an unrivaled turnout at the National Memorial. Our attendance of over 500 members matched or exceeded that of the New York Police Department who, along with the NY Port Authority, lost a total of 72 law enforcement members on 911. Since then, the Chicago Police Department has upheld their reputation many times as one of the largest voluntary law enforcement agencies in attendance for over two decades. This recognition is due strictly to the numerous individual CPD members who sacrificed their own time and funds over these many years to be part of this most honorable tradition. Solidarity, doing ' God's Work ' and many heartfelt memories will be your personal reward.

GETTING THERE

If using air travel, the most direct and recommended airport is Reagan National (DCA) with numerous flights out of O'Hare (ORD) and Midway (MDW) airports. Flying into Dulles airport would require unnecessary additional modes of transportation to access downtown DC. Reagan National has a convenient Metro Rail stop just outside the airport that will take you directly downtown and surrounding areas, including Arlington VA. (See 'AIRPORTS' in this guide) You may also consider driving or carpooling. Average drive time from Chicago is app. 10-12 hrs. with various factors affecting travel.

THE 'UNOFFICIAL' CHICAGO POLICE INFORMATION GUIDE WASHINGTON DC 2023

DC HOTEL INFORMATION, 2023

DC's hotel occupancy traditionally reaches its peak in March through July and October. Average daily rates reach their highest levels during March through May and October. The latest 'average' downtown room rate per night is in the +/- $200.00 - 300.00 range with many variables affecting the average. Hotels adjust their rates upwards based upon demand by market evaluation of predicted occupancy of scheduled or recurring conventions, meetings, events (Police Week) etc., a classic case of supply and demand. Hotels share raw data (rooms sold, revenue and rooms available). The data is then aggregated into regions and used to benchmark for each hotel and geographic area. A new American Express Global Business Travel report suggests hotel rates worldwide will increase again in 2023 thanks to pent up demand for in-person meetings, after Covid. But they also expect the rate of increase to be lower than in 2022 due to the economic climate. The uppermost room rates during our travel period remain at the downtown chain hotels due to better marketing, ranking and amenities coupled with the desired close proximity to most tourist attractions, convention centers, and government buildings. In addition, most downtown hotels are within increased location access to the Metro rail stations, the main course and recommended transportation throughout downtown DC and surrounding areas. Staying just outside of downtown DC, hotel rates tend to drop off respectively based upon location, distance out, convenience, hotel quality/ranking, taxes and amenities along with the distance/access to the Metro rail line. Arlington VA, for example is basically just across the river from DC and one additional Metro rail stop outside of the downtown DC area. Based upon individual budget and preference, members may explore their best personal accommodations and rates on their own through the conventional methods such as recommendations, travel agents or simple Internet hotel comparisons of location, rates and availability. Internet hotel search sites for example, such as Trivago.com, or Kayak.com in a "search-all" mode allows simultaneous access to Hotels.com, Hotwire.com, Priceline.com, Expedia.com and Booking.com for comparison of rates and options. Oftentimes, after favoring a particular location from one of the sites, a direct call to the specific hotel reservation department may sometimes result in a better rate than those featured on the alleged discounted web search sites. When calling directly to the hotel, members should inquire about specific discounts not featured on-line such as, government rate, AAA travel discounts, AARP (retired) etc. Note that some hotels listed on these sites or individual hotel sites, sometimes offer a lower rate, but have some fine-print stipulations (i.e. total pre-payment, varying/no refund or cancellation policy, limited amenities, less desirable locations etc.) Read all terms and conditions prior to confirming and check the proximity to the closest Metro rail line. Some hotels list pricing options for the same type room according to their cancellation options with last minute cancellation dates closer to check-in typically more expensive. For example, some hotels will offer a noticeably cheaper rate but there may be a 'no cancellation' policy for that particular rate. While most hotels advertising claim to have a cancellation policy, they prefer the option to have time to resell/book the room recently cancelled, thus the earlier the cancellation date notice, the better the opportunity for the hotel to make the room available for resale. In DC, some hotels list that they are close ('direct' mileage) to specific buildings, downtown and tourist attractions, but may be in 'less desirable' neighborhoods. Some hotels include a complimentary breakfast in their rates. Note the difference between a possible 'continental' style and 'light' breakfast premium (basically coffee, rolls, pastry, toast, yogurt, juice etc.) as opposed to a 'full' breakfast selection (eggs, bacon, sausage, pancakes, waffles etc.) Some hotels offer the breakfast as an 'add-on' option to the everyday rate. Compare the added daily expense to match one's normal breakfast eating habit tendency to closely match the choice/cost for each day. Many hotels do not list the daily parking fees for those driving to DC, with some adding an additional cost sometimes near $50.00 a day. Review all the components when booking and consider that rate alone should not be the deciding factor. The overall picture should be taken into account, i.e. location, cleanliness, daily housekeeping policy, amenities, convenience, room accommodations, food and drink availability, shuttle service, Metro rail proximity etc. Cost can be offset by dividing the rate by the number of occupants sharing the room or suite. Hotel rooms, depending on type/size can minimally sleep up to 3-4 occupants, (2 queens plus extra fold out couch/bed etc.)

NOTE: Again this year, the 2023 NLEOMF/CPD DC Information Guide, since publication for the last fifteen (15) years, for the second time, will not include publishing a specific list of recommended hotel(s) that were researched and personally negotiated for a discounted group rate for consideration. One option, without bias, again is merely listed annually for informational purposes, and offered through the "Police Week" hotel on-line reservation network sponsored by the DC/FOP via their site at PoliceWeekHotelRooms.com. Partial proceeds from booking through this site are donated to the FOP and NLEOMF. Again, all the aforementioned factors should be taken into account no matter the source of hotel reservations made to make your stay as pleasing, memorable and profitable as possible. Finally, members need to explore and book reservations ASAP as historically, belated bookings tend to have increased costs and less desirable availability option. BOOK NOW and SAFE TRAVELS!

GETTING AROUND

Metro Rail/Metro

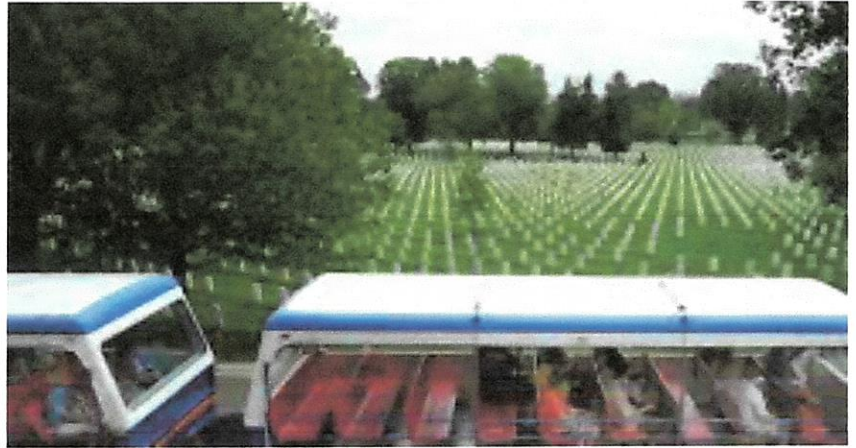

Their subway system is considerably safe, clean, efficient and close to most points of interest in downtown DC along with an extensive surrounding city and county area. The subway stations are identified at street level by a sign containing the letter M in boldface indicating Metro. During "Police Week" in the past, law enforcement officers, in uniform or with appropriate I.D. were allowed to ride for free. Experiencing varying interpretations in 2019, then later verified through FOP Lodge 1 in 2020, this perk appears to have been suspended. Therefore, it is in your best interest to familiarize yourself with the purchase of the Metro SmarTrip fare card and carry the card with you. The procedure is simple. Every Metro, or subway station as we know it, has a 'SmarTrip' fare card dispensing machine. *All one needs to do is insert cash or credit card into the machine in the desired amount of credit. You will receive a 'SmarTrip' transit card for use on their system. All one needs to do is insert or scan at the top of the 'entry' (green arrow) turnstile, the transit card which will electronically record your starting point and provide you access through. When you arrive at your final destination (you may have to switch lines at a transfer point on occasion) you simply insert or scan your same card into the 'exit' turn style (green arrow) and the amount will automatically be deducted from your card, according to distance traveled. The cards are 're-chargeable' at any station. The unused portion on the card does not expire and can be utilized in the future as necessary. Depending on the amount of individual travel via the Metro one may utilize, an initial amount of $20.00-$25.00 would be an average amount necessary to allow one to get around during "Police Week." Again, note the option to add or 'recharge' the card in any dollar amount at every station. The various area Metro 'lines' are identified by COLORS and the stations or stops by their areas within the city. Since multiple (color) Metro trains may pass through the same station, signage is provided at every station that indicates the 'color' of the next approaching Metro train in-bound into that station along with, in minutes, the arrival time. When the arriving train is app. 30 seconds away, round lights at the edge of the platform appear, start blinking to indicate pending arrival, serve as a warning to step back and remain lit once the train is in the station to illuminate boarding. Always step back from the opening train doors initially upon arrival to allow the passengers to alight from the train first. Also, it is expected that when using the Metro escalators to always stay to the right on the stairs as the left portion of the escalator steps are for the people who customarily bypass on the left side. A Metro Map is included with this information guide and pocket size versions are available at most Metro stations and hotels all throughout DC. *NEW in 2020 is using iPhone, Apple Pay Wallet or Apple Watch links for payment ! Go to Metro "SmarTrip" website for details/instructions for downloads onto your iPhone or Apple Watch devices to take advantage of this newly available option.

Most points of interest in the downtown area are within reasonable walking distance, depending on condition, age and sobriety. Locate the closest Metro stop to your destination from a Metro map first, then walk. Tour mobiles and bus tours are available to almost all of the points of interest for a fee that covers the day and allows one to get on/off and spend as much time at a particular site as necessary, before re-boarding to continue the tour or return to the point of origin. The service makes continual loops to most of the important downtown attractions in the DC area. This appears to be the "typical tourist" mode of transportation. There's also a "night tour" where one can experience the sights in a completely different evening atmosphere. Although admission is free to enter/walk through Arlington National Cemetery and view the Changing of the Guard at the Tomb of the Unknown, and Kennedy grave memorial etc. on your own, similar guided bus tours are available at Arlington National Cemetery for a separate fee.

Unless you're taking the Metro to a specific area for cost and convenience, you'll find DC area taxi transportation not all that expensive with the average fares throughout downtown about $20.00-$25.00, depending on distance and traffic conditions. If you split the cost between occupants or take turns paying the fare you'll find that it's not all that expensive for the door-to-door convenience. During late night excursions, especially after drinking, taxi, Uber, Lyft etc. transportation is highly advised. "WITHIN" the designated 'downtown' DC area, all cabs work on 'zone to zone' rates or fares. Predetermined rates apply from one zone to another as opposed to a metered rate that registers the distance traveled. Some applicable charges may apply, i.e., additional passenger fees, am/pm rush hour rates i.e. (0700-0930 & 1600-1830) and radio dispatch fee extra. "OUTSIDE" of the 'downtown DC' area, the cabs are 'metered.' It works out about the same with a 'zone' rate to Georgetown for example within a few dollars of a 'metered' return ride back. In general, experience indicates that taxi service in DC is fairly reliable. Uber/Lyft is also available in DC if you are registered and have the appropriate app on your phone. These 'ride share' vehicles also allow you to choose the size of the vehicle depending on the number in your party and are plentiful even in areas not heavily patrolled by cabs. You also view the driver, vehicle (make & license plate #) and their location and app. wait time while tracking their location on your phone. Your credit card is charged within minutes of the completion of the transaction. Tipping is not required in ride share type vehicles but good drivers/service can be acknowledged and compensated. Bicycles and DC Pedicabs, are also available for rent along with electric scooters. Guided Segway tours and rentals are available at locations within downtown DC.

Marine Barracks Washington, D.C. Evening Parade

Occasionally during "Police Week" our non-event LEO evening dates coincide with The Marine Barracks Evening Parade that takes place at the USMC Barracks located at 8th and I, SE, in Washington DC. The event is held every Friday beginning in May until September. Starting at 2045 hrs. (8:45 pm) it consists of a one hour and fifteen minute performance of music and precision marching. The Evening Parade features "The President's Own" United States Marine Band, "The Commandant's Own" The United States Marine Drum and Bugle Corps, the Marine Corps Color Guard, the Marine Corps Silent Drill Platoon, Ceremonial Marchers, and 'Cpl. Chesty,' the official mascot of the Marine Barracks. The Marine Barracks in Washington DC is the "Oldest Post of the Corps," established in 1801, with the present-day Evening Parade first conducted on July 5, 1957. The resplendent setting of the Barracks, home of the Marine Corps Commandant, the parades are a showcase for the ceremonial prowess of Marines and the musical eminence of the U.S. Marine Band, which had achieved international renown under the premier military band leader of all time, John Philip Sousa. Also performing at the Evening Parade is the Marine Corps Silent Drill Platoon, a 24-man rifle platoon that performs a unique precision drill exhibition. This highly disciplined platoon exemplifies the professionalism associated with the United States Marine Corps. The Silent Drill Platoon first performed in the Sunset Parades of 1948 and received such an overwhelming response that it soon became a regular part of the parades at Marine Barracks Washington, DC. The Marines execute a series of calculated drill movements and precise handling of their hand-polished, 10 ½ pound, M1 Garand rifles with fixed bayonets. The routine concludes with a unique rifle inspection sequence demonstrating elaborate rifle spins and tosses.

Reservations are required for guaranteed access to attend the Evening Parade. Parade reservations must be requested online by accessing their reservations page <https://paraderes.dcmarines.com/> Confirmation emails will be sent to the point of contact listed in the online request. Please note that due to the high volume of requests it could take up to four business days for Marine Barracks Washington to complete reservation requests. Gates open at 7 p.m. and close at 8 p.m. for guests with confirmed reservations. Guests with confirmed reservations will lose their guaranteed seats if they arrive after 8 p.m. At approximately 8:15 p.m., guests without reservations in the General Admission line are offered unclaimed seats (if available). General Admission line guests are not guaranteed seats. Take the Blue/Orange/Silver line Metro to the "Eastern Market" station, exit at Pennsylvania and 8th Street, and it's a 4 block walk south to 8th & I.

There is NO cost to view this entire event, however parking in the area while limited, is subject to a fee by credit card. Check their website around April for further information regarding reservations, parking, shuttles and other FAQ's at...

<https://www.barracks.marines.mil/Parades/General-Information/>

This is a highly recommended special event to view on Friday evening, 12 May 2023, during our main NLEOM events, 12-15 May 2023. This highly disciplined platoon exemplifies the professionalism associated with, "The Few, The Proud..."

WE RIDE FOR THOSE WHO DIED

POLICE UNITY TOUR ARRIVES AT NATIONAL LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS MEMORIAL ON 12 MAY 2023, Time-TBD

Most activities during National "Police Week" are organized by three main groups consisting of the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Foundation (NLEOMF), Concerns of Police Survivors (COPS) and the DC National Fraternal Order of Police (FOP). Together, they have historically coordinated and sponsored the main activities and events working in harmony with one another. There are also many individual and group corporate sponsors that have contributed to the history, longevity and success of "Police Week" activities. One major group sponsor is the Police Unity Tour. Organized in May of 1997, initially their goal was to raise awareness of law enforcement officers who have died in the line of duty. Their secondary purpose is to raise funds for the National Law Enforcement Officer's Memorial and Museum. They began with a 1997 four day fund-raising bicycle ride from Florham Park, NJ to the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial in Washington DC which raised an initial total of $18,000.00 from the eighteen participating bike riders. Unable to ride to Washington, DC in May 2020 due to Covid-19, their nationwide group now consisting of 2800 members were still able to raise and contribute to the NLEOMF, another 2 million dollars. Their total donation over 25 years is an impressive 33+ million dollars. The final leg of their 300+ total mile trip will arrive at the NLEOM on 12 May 23, Time TBD, *Visit their website.

35TH ANNUAL CANDLELIGHT VIGIL, SATURDAY, 13 MAY, 23

Each year, the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund produces its annual Candlelight Vigil—a signature event of National Police Week in Washington, DC. Traditionally, the Annual National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial (NLEOM) Candlelight Vigil takes place at 8 pm on the National Mall between 4th and 7th Sts., NW and Madison and Jefferson Drives. Everyone is invited and no tickets are required. A reading of all the newly engraved names for the year which consist both of the 2022 line of duty deaths along with those historical names of past members recently recognized and approved for addition this year are read at the conclusion of the observance. This event is an extensive program that includes remarks by dignitaries and musical tributes normally in a large open area with seating limited to the honored guests and Gold Star Family members. Dress is casual according to the weather. Uniforms are not required, but may be worn if preferred. It is suggested that some sort of Chicago police type logo apparel be worn to show support and affiliation of our agency, as well as identify our members in attendance to one another as well. Our Chicago Police Honor Guard will be in uniform to officially represent our department and assist and escort the Gold Star Families to their reserved seating. This impassioned tribute remains a treasured, poignant experience and is highly recommended, especially for first-timers! It appears that the 2023 candlelight vigil can again be witnessed, if not attending in person, via available Livestream on these sites: NLEOMF web page: NLEOMF.org/vigil, FACEBOOK: Facebook.com/NLEOMF, & YouTube: YouTube.com/theNLEOMF To check on any changes current/last minute updates or questions, use their email vigil@nleomf.org or call 202.737-3400. MetroRail Orange, Blue and Silver line trains all stop at the Smithsonian Station and from there it's a short walk along the Mall to the attendance area.

HONOR GUARD / PIPE AND DRUM COMPETITION
SUNDAY, 14 MAY 2023

The Steve Young National Honor Guard Competition and Demonstration and Pipe and Drum competitions provides an opportunity for law enforcement organizations to perform ceremonious and patriotic tributes for public viewing. These teams are a highly dedicated group of law enforcement officers that represent organizations from all across this great nation and Canada. They converge on the Nation's Capital every year for National Police Week, where peace officers are honored for their dedicated service to the protection of our communities. The 22nd annual Steve Young National Honor Guard Competition and Pipe Band Competition are hosted by the Fraternal Order of Police and takes place at the Grant Statue (west front of the United States Capitol.) Starting time is app. 8:00 a.m. to approximately 4:00 p.m. The Honor Guard competition consists of three phases. First is an intense uniform inspection for exacting detail where anything from a piece of lint, a blur in the polish of the badge or a loose thread on a patch loses points. Next is the posting of the Colors by the entire Honor Guard Unit, followed by the Honor Guard group presentation or performance. All of the judges are from the elite U.S. Army Drill Team or U.S. Military Honor Guards assigned to the White House or Arlington Tomb Guards. Our Chicago Police Honor Guard participates in this event annually to honor our fallen, however at the time of the early release of this 2023 Information Guide, the exact scheduled time for their particular exhibition has yet to be determined and released. In addition, at this early stage it is also uncertain if our area Pipes and Drums of the Chicago Police Department and / or Pipes and Drums of the Emerald Society will compete again in 2023. Particular information, closer to Police Week relative to National Honor Guard and Pipe Band competition times and attendees will be available by accessing their web site...<http://www.policeweekhonorguard.com>

MAIN MEMORIAL EVENT, MONDAY, 15 MAY 2023

This Annual National Peace Officers Memorial Day Service is the main event of the entire trip. This program takes place on the west end (Mall side) of the United States Capitol Building. Our assembly location is on the grassy area in front of the Capitol. When using taxi, Uber/Lyft service to get to the Capitol, get dropped off on the* northwest side of the Capitol Bldg. (Union Station side) You'll be closest to the assembly point of the CPD/Illinois contingents. If using the Metro rail, take either the BLUE or ORANGE line and get off at the "Capitol South" station. Once you exit the Metro rail at the Capitol South stop, there will be many other law enforcement agencies in uniform exiting as well. Follow them for the 4-5 block walk to the Capitol Building special entrance area. NOTE: If you are carrying your weapon, you normally have to go through a Secret Service checkpoint. You will need your active police ID, and/or your IROCC concealed carry ID (retired) if not in uniform in addition to your badge to be allowed access into the Capitol area. This is an annual 'required' stipulation by the U.S. Secret Service. Be prepared for this requirement please. Upon arrival of the Gold Star survivor's cordon, they then are escorted down the pathway by their respective police agency representatives to the base of the steps of the Capitol for the memorial ceremony. Law enforcement officers in 'dress uniform' from throughout the U.S. and as far away as Australia and England assemble around the Capitol steps at this time. All police agencies group together by state in their preferred area. It's normally easy to locate the CPD/Illinois group due to the routinely sizeable amount of members in uniform. ALL ILLINOIS police agencies are equally welcome to unite with the CPD contingent on behalf of our state. (i.e. Illinois State Police, County Departments/Sheriffs, railroad special agents, suburban agencies etc.) Proceed all the way up front and the farthest to the left along the pathway as you face the Capitol Building. At this exclusive location, Chicago/Illinois traditionally are the first organized police agency(ies) the Gold Star families witness on their way in to the event. Dress of the day for 'Active Chicago' members in uniform are "Class A" uniforms, consisting in part of the CPD blouse, tie and uniform crown cap. NO variations of the 'Class A' uniforms please. White gloves optional. Retired members, family supporters in civilian dress are encouraged to wear respectable casual attire, according to the weather, preferably with a (CPD, Memorial Foundation, Brotherhood for Fallen etc.) insignia, emblem etc. to show our group affiliation. All particulars relative to our role here will be explained to you when you arrive at the appropriate time. Just look for our Illinois sisters and brothers and join the assemblage. The keynote speaker at this event is The President of the United States. You will be able to meet police officers from all over the nation here as once the families are seated and the program begins, there will be time to casually intermingle and converse with the many law enforcement members in attendance. Later in the program, when the names from our state (IL) are being read, we will again fall in as a group and hold a salute while the names from Illinois are read as a sign of solidarity. Since this is the main event and the culmination of Police Week, we ask for your compassion, especially at this ceremony. While Chicago/IL always has an impressive turn out at this observance, the true test of our dedication and commitment is how many of us, remain to the end. When the ceremony has concluded, the Gold Star family members are again escorted out down the same pathway that we lined upon their arrival. At this point the CPD/Illinois contingent are joined by LAPD/California in our exclusive respective positions as they exit for their closing tribute. Illinois and California remain as the last two LEO assembled groups the survivor's cordon witness upon exit.

This final act of compassion and brotherhood by our respective agencies confirms our devotion to the Gold Star Family Members.

The entire program lasts for app. >2 hours, a small sacrifice on behalf of those that gave their all, "The Ultimate Sacrifice." Depending on the weather, you will possibly be out in the open with little or no shade, so prepare yourself for your own personal needs as necessary, such as water, medication, sun block, rain gear, etc. Many officers extend their stay and leave the following day to give themselves time for a final dinner or sightseeing that late afternoon or perhaps the following morning if they book a late flight out. It is suggested that if you drive to DC that you seriously consider leaving on the following day especially if you are the lone driver as the ceremony is physically and emotionally demanding. It is in your best interest to hit the road for the drive back ... fully rested. At app. 2:30 p.m., the flowered wreath completed at the Capitol with individual flowers placed by each of the family members that lost loved ones that year is then transported and placed at the NLEOM wall in a short ceremony sponsored by the FOP, for those wishing to witness this event. * NOTE:(emphasis added) Please arrive a MINIMUM of 1 hour (0930-1000) earlier to assure CPD/Illinois agencies our annual prime location up front and allow our members to 'be in place' well before the arrival of the Gold Star family members and their department escort representatives. Attendees arriving from the NW side of the Capitol building are even more likely to be halted outside our assembly area as entry to everyone is held up when the Gold Star families initially arrive. For this reason it is again stressed to arrive early as stated above to be part of our assembly as a show of total solidarity as the families pass by our group. Also note that during any movement of POTUS into the Capitol building proper, the Secret Service shuts down all movement around the Capitol including our law enforcement check-in, so arrive extra early to avoid being held back during this crucial time period. Chicago has held for many years in the past, the honor of having the largest voluntary turnout at this event, thanks to all those members who traditionally have given of their own time and funds to attend in solidarity to... Honor Our Fallen.

2023 Assembly Notice

Please note that all the aforementioned information for this 2023 MAIN MEMORIAL EVENT listed here is based wholly upon the prior decades of our historic experiences here for this particular event. While unlikely, based upon the unaffected previous conditions at this event in 2022, it does not take into account any new or last minute Secret Service and/or any (physical) layout restrictions, or assembly requirements that may be in place for 2023. It is again stressed to arrive early as indicated above, as past history has shown that annually many of our members were halted in line 'outside' of the direct Capitol LEO assembly area until all the Gold Star families have been escorted to their designated seating area. This not only precludes our members from witnessing firsthand all the nations Gold Star Family members and their department escorts, but it also deprives them of observing our full assembly on THEIR behalf. Note that this event officially remains as the most essential part of our entire trip to Honor Our Fallen and culminating all the major Police Week activities. We gather as one to show our devotion and solidarity on behalf of our fallen brethren who made the 'Ultimate Sacrifice' as...

All Gave Some Because Some Gave All

NATIONAL LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS MEMORIAL

The National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial (NLEOM) is always open and available for viewing 24 hrs. a day. The Memorial sits on three acres of federal park land in downtown DC called Judiciary Square. The Memorial grounds boast plush carpets of grass, nearly 60,000 plants and 128 trees. Each April, more than 10,000 daffodils bloom at the site, providing a burst of color. The Memorial's central plaza features an intricate paving pattern and a bronze medallion with the Memorial Fund logo: a blue shield with a red rose draped across it. Bordering the Memorial's beautifully landscaped park are the two tree-lined 'pathways to remembrance' where the names of the fallen officers are engraved. Each of the pathway entrances is adorned with a powerful statuary grouping of an adult lion protecting its cubs. The bronze statues symbolize the protective role of law enforcement officers and convey the strength, courage and valor that are hallmarks of those that serve and protect. Allow ample time to visit the NLEOM that pays tribute to over 22,000 members of law enforcement to view all the thousands of pictures, cards, notes, large and small artifacts and mementos left at the two curved 300 foot walls. While it tends to be more crowded during daytime hours, the area is accessible for late night viewing as well. Parking is limited in the area and Metro use is highly recommended and very convenient during available Metro hours. Check Metro schedule for hours. Access the RED Line Metro and get off at the JUDICIARY SQUARE Metro station, F Street exit and the NLEOM is right above at street level. Note that the Judiciary Square Metro station closes during certain late evening and some weekend hours. The NLEOM is located on E St at 5th St., NW.

On 30 Oct 1989, ground was broken for the NLEOM in Judiciary Square, Washington DC. Along with President Bush, was Officer Gregory Jaglowski, recipient that year of our nations "Top Cop Award" for his heroic actions in a gunfight with a crazed killer who had previously shot and killed a victim then sadly also killed Greg's partner, Officer Irma Ruiz on 9/22/1988. Greg was also wounded in the direct firefight.

Dedicated on October 15, 1991, the NLEOM walls originally contained 12,561 names and was designed for enough space through 2100.

Names were added annually and reached an unanticipated early peak in 2019 of app. 20,000 names with a need to expand the 304 ft. walls

Architects designed a new 15" higher wall top-cap replacement that would add the needed space for names for another thirty-five years

The original wall top-cap was removed and replaced with a more spacious and useful addition for names to continue to honor our fallen

The project will serve the NLEOMF community for over three more decades and provide additional space for memorabilia in the interim

THIS MEMORIAL IS DEDICATED TO ALL LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

NATIONAL LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS MUSEUM

The National Law Enforcement Officers Museum officially opened on 13 October 2018 after nearly three years in the construction phase which followed multiple years of planning, fundraising and the collection of artifacts and law enforcement related historical items. The museum is located at 444 E St., NW which is directly across the street from the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial. A unique feature of the museum is that it was built entirely 'underground' across from the NLEOM. The glass pavilion enclosure (featured above) provides the architectural cover to the stairs and escalator to the lower level providing access to the museum. For an interesting three minute time lapse video of the excavation and construction of the museum with a unique overhead camera visual, visit...
